Research Analysis

HB 4210 requires the Oklahoma Attorney General to maintain data related to human trafficking and to assist law enforcement, social service agencies, and private victim advocacy programs in identifying and supporting victims of human trafficking. The measure creates within the Office of the Attorney General the Human Trafficking Response Unit to maintain data and develop training programs to assist agencies and victims of human trafficking. The Unit is to also create incentive programs to encourage state agencies to attend training programs and review policies, and appropriate targeted funding for victim service programs. The Unit is to publish public service announcements on various media platforms to educate the public about the dangers of human trafficking.

The Senate amendment restores the title.

Fiscal Analysis

The Senate amendments to the measure add coauthors and restore title to the measure.

The Senate amendments do not create any additional fiscal impact to the bill.

Upon review, and with further consultation from the Office of the Attorney General, the measure may create a fiscal impact lower than previously estimated. The additional duties prescribed by the measure to the Office of the Attorney General would require additional appropriations for FY-23 of $420,000.
