Research Analysis

The Senate amendment to HB 4327 makes minor, non-substantive changes to clarify statutory language in Section 8, subsection D.

SAHB 4327 adds a new subsection E to Section 8, that provides no court in this state will have jurisdiction to consider any action, claim, or counterclaim that seeks declaratory or injunctive relief to prevent a private individual from enforcing any provision or application of this act or from filing a civil action under this act.

SAHB 4327 also adds a new Section 10 which provides that this act will not affect any provision of state law that regulates or prohibits abortion. The measure renumbers the subsequent sections.
