Research Analysis

The floor amendment to SB778 replaces language in the bill that specifies if any one or more provisions, sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, phrases or words of this act is found to be unconstitutional, it is declared to be severable and the balance of this act will remain effective.

The new language replaces that and specifies if any provision of this act results in legal costs to the state, the act is required to be repealed in its entirety and will immediately cease to have force and effect of law.
