Bill Analysis

HB 1102 modifies the categories of “unprofessional conduct” to include the performance of an abortion unless the procedure is performed to prevent the death or significant physical impairment of the mother. An abortion may not be performed based solely on the mental or emotional health of the mother, notwithstanding a claim or diagnosis that the woman may engage in conduct which she intends to result in her death. The State Board of Health shall impose penalties on persons violating the provisions of this measure which may include suspension of the license for a period of not less than 1 year. The measure also directs the Attorney General to calculate costs paid for by the state or local entities in court challenges to this act. The office of the Attorney General is also required to report such amounts for each calendar quarter to all members of the Legislature.
