Bill Analysis

SB 868 creates the Prohibition on Social Credit Scores in the State of Oklahoma Act. The measure prohibits the use of social credit by the state. Additionally, businesses and citizens of the state are prohibited from using, providing data to, and enforcing a social credit score system as defined in the measure. The measure clarifies that its provisions shall not apply to incarcerated persons and credit scores used by financial institutions. The measure also provides that if the federal government were to adopt such a system, the state and its citizens shall not provide any data to the government or participate in the system.
