Research Analysis

HB 1909, as introduced, creates the "Oklahoma Youth Advisory Council Act," which creates the Oklahoma Youth Advisory Council that will serve as a platform for young people to examine, evaluate, and discuss issues that impact Oklahoma youth now and in the future. The Council will advise and make recommendations to elected officials. The council will have 53 members and qualifications are listed in the measure. The measure outlines how legislative members of the council will be appointed. The Oklahoma Youth Advisory Council will have duties and responsibilities conferred to them in the act. The Council will meet at least four times a year, all meetings will be open to the public, and the Council has the authority to develop rules and procedures to governs its activities. The Council will report to the Review Committee each interim that the Review Committee meets. The measure also creates the Oklahoma Youth Advisory Council Review Committee to review the work of the Council.
