Fiscal Analysis

HB 2263 modifies Oklahoma law regarding the use of electronic devices while driving, specifically addressing hand-held cellular telephones and electronic communication devices. The measure also prohibits law enforcement from confiscating electronic devices without consent or extracting device information without probable cause or a valid search warrant. Municipalities may enforce similar ordinances, but their total fines cannot exceed $100. After communication with the Oklahoma Department of Public Safety, the measure is not anticipated to have a direct fiscal impact on the state budget or appropriations.
