Bill Analysis

SB 1017 provides that the state Medicaid program may cover educationally-necessary school-based services, but prohibits the Health Care Authority from school-based services more broadly than the measure's definition of such services or the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. The measure defines school-based services as specially designed instruction and services that are educationally necessary for the eligible student to receive a free and appropriate public education, but does not include medically necessary services. The measure also prohibits the Authority from covering school-based health care that is not educationally necessary.
