Bill Analysis

SB 625 adds commercial litigation funding agreement to the list of items that shall be produced upon request in discovery. Such information shall not necessarily be admitted as evidence in trial because of the disclosure. Production of a commercial litigation funding agreement shall include a certification by sworn affidavit by the producing party as to whether any funds encumbered by the terms of the agreement have been or will be sourced from a foreign state or agency. The party shall also produce to the request a certification that identifies whether the party is an entity controlled by a foreign adversary. The party shall specify which persons have access to the documents if the party admits that an entity controlled by a foreign adversary may access the documents.
